Address Tonight On Life Of Sir James Mackenzie

Dr. H. P. Wright of the Paediatrics staff of the Royal Victoria College will deliver an address before the Medical Undergraduate Society tonight on the life of the great heart specialist, Sir James Mackenzie.

Dr. Wright has made an extensive study of Mackenzie's life and works and will show his tremendous influence in the field of clinical medicine. An exposition of the difficulties with which Mackenzie was confronted and which he overcame, his unflinching zeal and enthusiasm, his devotion to duty and keen scientific insight cannot help but impress medical students.

A short case report will be discussed and refreshments served. At the next meeting elections will be held. Nominations must be in by next Monday.

MOTOR CAR CALLED CURSE OF OXFORD

Far Worse Than Railway of Goldwin Smith's Time

PRINCIPAL HUTTON

Toronto's Professor of Greek
Says Oxford a University
City no Longer

That the motor car is ruining Oxford is the contention of Professor Maurice Hutton, Principal of University College and Professor of Greek at the University of Toronto, in an article entitled "Reminiscences" in the centenary celebration number of the Varsity.

Oxford, which he refers to "as the other university which I love", for he is an Oxford scholar, "has been deplorably demoralised and spoiled by one of our modern triumphs of science: the motor car; the motor car is a curse to Oxford, far worse than the railway which invaded it in Mr. Goldwin Smith's time, in spite of the opposition of the d'e-hards and last-ditchers of that age; there was some wisdom, there always is, in last-ditchers and in d'e-hards; but they have a much better case today. Today Oxford is a University city no longer, no longer a cloistered home of scholarship nor a sheltered oasis of thought, nor even a pleasant retreat for amateur athletes; the streets are as dangerous with cars as those of Toronto; the quadrangles are crowded with tourists and their hordes; they rush and nod and bustle by, and never once possess their souls before they die; and, worse still, they never let the real intimates possess their souls."

ANNUAL OUT IN APRIL

Notice Will Inform Students of Distribution Regulations

It is expected that the annual, Old McGill 1928, will appear on the campus in the middle of April, according to an announcement made last night by the managing editor. "At least we hope it will be out then," he said. Distribution of the volumes will be as usual from the annual board room now in the basement of the Union. Plenty of notices will be posted in the various university buildings and about the campus to apprise students of the distribution arrangements.

Science — Nominations close today. Elections March 23rd.

ALL RELIGIONS SHOW THE SAME FUNDAMENTALS

Cosmopolitanism Of Religion Is Tendency

McGILL GRADUATE

Urges Appreciation Rather than Toleration of the Faith of Others

Cosmopolitanism of religion, appreciation rather than tolerance for the faith of another, was the note struck by Dr. Alfred E. Martin at the Peoples Forum last night. Dr. Martin, who is a graduate of McGill University, was speaking on the subject "Revelations of Comparative Religion, and their results."

The speaker first traced the story of the revelations of the seven great religions, Buddhism, Mohammedanism, Judaism, Confucianism, Hinduism, Zoroastrianism, Christianity, and showed that in the doctrines of all there were certain fundamental similarities. In all these religions were upheld the great virtues of justice, temperance, patience, purity and love. All had a breadth of tolerance for the religions of others. There was also a universality of the religious sentiments of awe, reverence, trust and the hope of immortality. The points of the Decalogue of Judaism were in all the others, with the addition of four others, "cleanliness" and "temperance" in Mohammedanism, "intellectual honesty" in Buddhism, and "love" in Christianity. The Golden Rule was common to all these religions. The doctrine of the brotherhood of man was not distinctly Christian, although religion based its belief in this on different factors. All religions faced toward the one end, the perfect ideal of human life and the understanding of the supreme end of man's existence.

Each of these religions had its own distinct dominant note. Hinduism emphasized the pulsing life in every object of nature. Buddhism's great note was renunciation, Zoroastrianism, victory through conflict, Confucianism order, Judaism righteousness, Christianity love.

These revelations of comparative religion, Dr. Martin believed, would ultimately sound the death knell to sectarianism, and tend more and more to cosmopolitanism of religion, and appreciation of those with faith other than our own.

MACCABAEANS HOLD DEBATE HERE SOON

In McGill Union on March 26
Against Toronto

The annual debate between the Maccabean Circle and the Menorah Society of Toronto will be held in the McGill Union on Saturday night, March 26th at 8.15.

The debate, which has aroused considerable interest, is for the silver trophy called the Bennett Cup, which has been donated by Mr. David Bennett of Toronto. This trophy has been the bone of contention between the two societies for many years. The Maccabean Circle up to last year held the coveted silverware since the inauguration of the contest, but the cup was captured by the Menorah Society at Toronto last year.

This year the representatives of the Maccabean Circle are Frank M. Godline and Bernard M. Alexandor. The former was once a member of the Students Council, and also a well-known figure about the campus. The latter is the vice-president of the Arts Undergraduates Society. He was also one of the debaters who spoke in the debate against the Cambridge team last year.

Toronto is sending down E. A. Levy and S. Narofsky. The two men will take the Affirmative of the resolution "Resolved that the establishment of the proposed Jewish agency is in the best interests of Zionism." The judges of this debate will be Ben Robinson, Michael Garber and Louis Pich.

After the debate, there will be an informal dance. This debate will end the social activities of the Maccabean Circle for the year. The annual meeting of the Circle will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 3rd when the officers for the next year will be elected. Only members who have paid their fees are permitted to vote.

In order to defray expenses, a small

Societies Hold Last Meeting And Elections

Final meetings of most of the clubs on the campus are now being announced. Election of officers is generally one feature of these.

W. D. G. Hollingsworth is speaking at the last meeting of the Sociological Society, his topic being "Racial Segregation in Urban Communities", on March 31st. Officers for next year will be elected.

This coming Thursday the newly-formed Literary Club holds its final meeting of the year, when it is reported, a prominent speaker will address the members, at four in the Arts Building. Officers for next year will be elected.

The History Club is gathering for the last time this year, with the exception of the banquet, at one today. Officers for next year will be elected.

The League of Nations Club's annual meeting has been postponed to Sunday. Officers for next year will be elected.

The Osler Society executive for 27-28 will be chosen after the dinner next month. Tomorrow the B.W. and F. men are electing their officials, and the Old Scouts are doing the same thing on April 5th and the Maccabaeans on the third. So with undergraduate society elections also set for the near future McGill is going to do plenty of voting soon.

"IOLANTHE" CHOSEN FOR NEXT SEASON

Choral Society Prepares for Coming Year's Presentation

"Iolanthe", Gilbert and Sullivan's comic fairy opera in two acts will be presented next year by the Operatic and Choral Society preliminary arrangements now being made. Dr. H. C. Perrin has been elected Honorary President of the Society, and A. Swan, president, Miss Ball, vice-president for the coming season, while S. M. Tenenreiff is recording secretary and Miss H. Gilman corresponding secretary. Miss O. Hubbard has been chosen treasurer and librarian. E. A. Martineau will have charge of publicity.

The proposed revision of the constitution is to be considered in the summer and will be presented in the fall. Scores for the next year's presentation have been ordered and it is expected that they will be distributed to members that they may take them with them during the holidays.

"Iolanthe" is the story of the fairy who married a mortal, and the trouble that they caused in fairyland and in Parliament, especially among the peers. Her son, a half-and-half kind of being, gets into parliament and becomes a "Liberal-Conservative". The son wants to marry Phyllis, a ward in chancery, but so do all the peers, and even the lord-chancellor himself, for he is "such a susceptible chancellor". In the end it is proved that the lord-chancellor is the mortal who married Iolanthe and their son marries Phyllis.

Concert Version

Tickets for the Operatic and Choral Society's concert version of the popular opera, "Tom Jones" go on sale on April 11th at the Conservatorium of Music and the Tuck Shop, and may be obtained from members of the society. The concert version is being given at the request of many people, and will be held in the Hall of the Royal Victoria College, Thursday, April 21st.

FORTNIGHTLY APPEARS THURSDAY

Final Issue of Review, 16 Pages,
Out Two Weeks from Friday

The next issue of the McGill Fortnightly Review will appear on the campus at 11.30 on Friday morning, March 25th. It will be distributed to its subscribers in the usual manner.

There will be a special article on James Joyce and the prize winning story which won the contest. There will also be an article by G. R. McGill. In addition to these there will be the usual editorial news and poems.

In two weeks from Friday there will appear the final issue of this paper. It will contain 16 pages instead of the usual eight.

sum of 50 cents will be charged for admission. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the executive.

OLD BACONIAN CONTROVERSY RE-ENACTED

Place Of Shakespeare In Hall Of Fame
Discussed

U. OF MONTREAL

Dr. Johnson, Boswell and Shaw Took Part in Novel Debate

The age-old controversy over Bacon and Shakespeare was re-enacted at the Université de Montreal Friday when Dr. Johnson in the person of John T. Hackett, K.C., was in the chair and the inevitable Boswell (Dr. E. J. Mulally) was of course also present. The claims of Bacon's supporters were put forward by the Devil's Advocate, George Bernard Shaw (Arthur Phelan, G.C.) who ended up by showing that he himself was superior to the Bard of Avon. Dr. Atherton of the U. of M. pleaded the cause of Shakespeare.

Mr. Phelan with much humor pleaded the side of the "antidote" under three headings: First that Shakespeare based nearly all his plays on the works of his predecessors, second that he was a rank plagiarist and third that he was not superior to his contemporaries.

After quoting various modern writers in support of his contention, Mr. Phelan claiming that he did not want to beat a dead horse, closed with the assertion that Shakespeare's vaunted claim to universality will eventually be shattered and his niche in the Hall of Fame occupied by a modern writer more modest than the Bard who is known to the world as G. B. S.

Dr. Atherton gave full credit to Shakespeare's contemporaries for being the equal of the poet-in-kind, but not in degree. Historically, there was no doubt that he towered over his contemporaries, and, in contrast with the descriptions of the Devil's Advocate, might be described as the great creator, the poet of humanity, whose creation, insight and sympathy placed him firmly on the pedestal which he has been accorded.

GORDON BRAND WILL GIVE RECITAL

Bass-baritone is Experimenter
in McGill Laboratory

Gordon Brand, Canadian Bass-Baritone, a native of Montreal and an experimenter in the hygiene laboratory at McGill is giving a concert recital at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on April 6th. He will be assisted by M. Marcel Hubert, violinist, Mlle. Yvonne Hubert, pianist and Mr. George M. Brewer, F. R. C. O., accompanist.

Gordon Tenny Brand received his vocal training in this city and is now studying with Homer Curry. He is well known as a choir and concert soloist. In 1924 he was selected as baritone solo-member of the Montreal Elgar choir for the Spanish canticle, "A Miracle of the Virgin Mary." He has a voice of deep resonant timbre and an engaging personality. He is presenting a program that is well-balanced from the point of view of range and artistry.

Dr. Chipman To Deliver Speech On Lord Lister

Lord Lister will be the subject of the Annual Oslerian Address, this year to be given by Dr. W. W. Chipman at the dinner of the Osler Society to be held in the Ritz-Carlton April 5th. This day marks the centenary of the birth of Lord Lister, and all over the world there will be celebrations to do honor to the memory of the discoverer of antiseptics and the Father of Modern Surgery.

The dinner closes the activities of the McGill Osler Society for the year. It is generally conceded to have had a very successful term. After the banquet there will be a short business meeting and election of officers.

Those in charge of arrangements for the dinner are William Moffatt, Charles O'Regan with the president Winston Harrison.

Dr. Chipman is the honorary-president of the Osler Society and has always shown a keen interest in its affairs. Always a prominent figure in medical circles he is at the present time the president of the American College of Surgeons.

PRAGMATISM IS DISCUSSED BY DR. CALDWELL

Interdependence Of Science And Philosophy Shewn

Y. M. C. A.

Forum Hears "Relation of Philosophy to Experience"

"The great mistake of philosophers and philosophy in the past has been the divorcing of the intellectual life from the feelings, the will, and the experimental life of mankind," declared Dr. William Caldwell, head of the department of Philosophy here at McGill, in a most stimulating address to the Young Men's Forum in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon.

Discussing "What is the relation between Philosophy and Experience," before a capacity audience, Dr. Caldwell urged his hearers not to be too awed by any presentation of this word by any one specialized thinker, pointing out that, after all, one man's views, though he may be profound in his own field, are apt to be more or less along the lines of his special study and consequently biased.

"There can be no 'I' without a 'Thou' no ego without an altar," he continued. It is only in communion with others and other things that we can understand the world. He would be the first to confess that in philosophy there were no actual authorities, the only authority being an appeal to Reason. Touching upon the relation of science to philosophy, Dr. Caldwell showed that there could not be any real separation of these two great things, as philosophy was ultimately the science of the sciences; the parent tree from which all other sciences branched. It is a philosophy that is trying to answer the great question of "What is knowledge? Until the meaning of knowledge is settled, he stated, the question of the science of knowledge is not complete. Kant was the turning point in philosophy, changing the point of view altogether—"a Copernicus of the mind," as he termed himself. It was he who (Continued on page two)

OVER-ORGANIZATION OF ACTIVITIES, TOPIC

Open Forum Held at Delta
Sigma Society Meeting

"Resolved that extra-curricular activities in all American Colleges and universities is over-organized to such an extent as to be detrimental to them" was the subject of an open forum at the last meeting of the Delta Sigma Society.

Miss Marianna Brock presented the affirmative and Miss Betty Archdale and Miss Regina Shoobman the negative. The audience vote resulted in a draw.

Miss M. A. Ross, it was announced, had won the prize for the one-act play competition, Miss Bert Newman and Miss Leona Gray, received honorable mention.

At the final meeting which will take place on April 7th, the public speaking contest will be held. As this is being made an open competition this year a series of eliminations will be held in each year or faculty according to their size so that too many people will not be competing in the final round for Miss Hurlbutt's cup. The names of all those wishing to compete must be in the hands of the Delta Sigma Society representatives by this Wednesday.

The proposed amendments to the constitution were read, and students were urged to consider the revised constitution before the next meeting. At present this is now up on the Social Workers' Board. Tuesday it will be placed on the M.S.P.E. board for a week and after that on the notice board in the Royal Victoria College Hall.

McMaster Co-eds Lost Debate

Toronto, March 19.—Women debaters of Bates College, Maine, were successful in a debate here last night with co-eds of McMaster University on the subject, "Resolved that there should be a general cancellation of all international war debts." The United States students argued in the negative.

Undergraduate Journalism

WITH this, the final issue of the McGill Daily, for the session 1926-27 comes to a close perhaps the most successful and progressive year in McGill student journalism. Never has the Daily undergone such marked changes and experienced such innovations in its columns as it has during the past six months.

It has been the first year for its new constitution, and the trial has been a most encouraging one; the reorganization of policy and the managing-board has proved decidedly better than previous arrangements. The new system of associate-editorships has also meant a considerable improvement; besides the regular six night editors, there has been a special staff of editorial writers busy throughout the year in an effort to fill this important section of the journal with at least two editorials on subjects of general interest daily; other associate editors have had charge of special feature columns that have appeared weekly or semi-weekly.

The more conservative form of make-up has tended towards a better all round paper each day; while the single column editorial that took the place of the larger type, double column, seems to have met with the general approval of the student body. Another big step ahead was achieved when a special telegraphic wire was put through to the editorial offices for special work in intercollegiate news service. On more than one occasion the Daily was the first paper in Montreal to receive results and running stories of athletic contests, despite the down-town press.

All of this is just another proof of the important and educative part such an institution as a college news organ can and does play in the life of university undergraduate activity. The training received thereon in any faculty whatsoever, whether it be reporter or editor-in-chief, is difficult to equal in any other student organization.

The Daily goes to press with its last issue confident that a signal step of progress has been attained in undergraduate journalism in Canada, at any rate. Of course, as in anything else, there still remains much room for improvement, but at the present rate of progress that will all come shortly.

Correspondence

The sentiments expressed in letters published by this column are those of the writers not necessarily of the editors. Signed communications from anyone interested in the welfare of McGill University will be printed. Anonymity will be preserved when requested, but the writer's name and address must be attached as a mark of good faith.

Correspondents will please write legibly and use one side of the paper only. If you would be pungent, be brief.

The Editor,
 McGill Daily.

Dear Sir—The fateful hour has arrived on the campus and in the halls of Royal Victoria College. The burning question "Sororities or not sororities?" is being discussed by all.

Do the R. V. C. Undergraduates know that they are deciding a question that will have its effects not only on those who are at present at college, but on those who are yet to come? Ponder well fair co-eds and remember the burden you have taken upon yourselves.

Are we going to let sororities into our midst and have them push R. V. C. in the background? No we are going to carry on our old traditions and keep R. V. C. the centre of all women's activities at McGill University.

Remember R. V. C. is small and if we divide up into units, each unit will be working against the other and as a result we will have discontent and petty rivalry.

Some wise people say R. V. C. is going to grow much larger, but if those some people will look up statistics they will find that R. V. C. increased from 88 students to 350 in the last 20 years, if we increase at the same rate we will only have 612 students in 1947. Even this would be too small a number to be divided up into sororities. Hark well to the famous quotation "United we stand, divided we fall."

Signed,
 A STUDENT.

TRIBUTE TO THE WORK OF LATE ISRAEL PALMER

Late intemperate janitor of the Physics Building, gently, adieu.
 A conscientious worker, whose life was true,
 A gentleman, modest, just and fair,
 Diffusing great influence everywhere,
 Adieu, until we meet again,
 To study problems of eternal gain.

Here And There

An honor was conferred upon Captain James Turnbull, C.B.E., R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific steamship Montclair, recently, when he was appointed Aide-de-Camp to His Majesty King George V.

All golfing records were shattered recently when K. Tanaka, local Japanese golfer, playing on the Canadian Pacific course "Langara," scored a hole in one twice in one round of the eighteen hole links. The first was obtained at the fifth hole which is 115 yards and the second at the sixteenth hole, which is 210 yards.

During the month of January of the present year automobile production in Canada has increased 95 per cent over and above the production for the corresponding month of last year, being 15,376 cars, as compared with 7,752 for the previous year. Almost half of the cars produced were for export, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In memory of the late Col. George H. Ham of Montreal, dean of railway publicity men in North America, a beautiful memorial porch is being erected over the door of St. John's Church at Whiteby by the members of the Women's Canadian Press Club. The late Col. Ham died in Montreal on April 16 last.

Nara, Japan—Eleven passengers on the Round-the-World cruise of the Canadian Pacific flag ship Empress of Scotland squeezed through a rectangular hole in a pillar just behind the colossal image of Buddha in the Daijutsu Temple here yesterday, thereby achieving according to ancient tradition the short road to Paradise.

The Board of Control at Toronto have formally accepted the offer made by Sir Lancelot Harcourt, English Baronet, of Mourner's portrait of General John Graves Simcoe, after whom the County of Simcoe, was named. General Simcoe set up his first government at York now Toronto. The painting will be hung in the Toronto City Hall already adorned with a collection of historical paintings recognized as one of the finest of its kind in America.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon will be given a warm welcome on the occasion of their first visit officially to Western Canada, the many centres through which they will pass are already preparing to receive them. They will leave Ottawa by special Canadian Pacific train March 19, and are scheduled to arrive at Vancouver March 25. Leaving the latter city they will go on to Victoria the same afternoon and will spend a couple of weeks visiting points of interest in Vancouver Island, returning to Vancouver April 12.

Back from a short trip to England on Canadian Pacific and Telegraph business, John MacMillan, general manager of telegraphs of the railway, returned on C. P. steamship Montclair and has again taken up his duties. Mr. MacMillan stated that purchase of cables for the Pacific Coast in connection with the new overland cable wire for the second Australian cable was completed during his trip. This material which represents a length of a hundred miles in two sections of wire, was inspected under Mr. MacMillan's supervision and will be shipped to this country early in April.

HE WAS AN EAGLE
 (In memoriam, Stuart P. Sherman, 1181-1926)

He was an eagle; eagles do not fly like frightened quail before the fowler's gun.
 Nor grieve like geese across the setting sun;
 He etched sharp angles on the morning sky
 Like solitary Euclid proving why
 This theme was false, this premise true. He won
 A lofty grandeur before his flight was done
 And owned a perch that Time shall glorify.

He wheeled above the valley with an eye
 That searched a meaning in the mystic dance
 Of life, immune to flattery or curse
 Of little men.....An eagle does not die

Senecont in the eyrie; he will chance
 His bit of clay to win a Universe.
 A. M. SULLIVAN

P. AGMATISM DISCUSSED BY DR. CALDWELL

first taught that the mind makes nature; that the world revolves about the mind that now time is in, instead of the old idea of us existing in time. And then the famous Bishop Berkeley went further startling the thinking world with the question: "What is meant by matter existing outside the mind?" Can things be known themselves or only by and through the mind were the subsequent queries. But T. H. Green put an end to all these speculations tersely and decisively when he put the question: "Can a mere series of events in nature, be conscious of themselves as a series; can matter know itself as matter?" The answer is obviously in the negative.

Dr. Caldwell went on to say that the trouble with the world today is that he needs more organization in the higher and worthier things. He was quite aware, he said, that this idea is scoffed at by many, but he was convinced that a break away from materialistic thought and mechanical habits was the real need for this world to progress. Modern empirical methods and ways of burning the candle at both ends, and such, and the blind adherence to custom, were anything but conducive to a better state of affairs.

"I am an idealist," Professor Caldwell concluded, "in maintaining that this world is unreal and intelligible without mind." Several questions were put to the speaker by members of the audience at the conclusion of the address.

BLACK FLAME

(From Voices)

She hid her secret deep, deep deep,
 And walked on Poykville's straight straight street.

Her eyes were curtains—drawn to tell
 That shallowness lies in a well.

She said, "I must be like the rest,
 Silent, listless, somber-dressed."

But sometimes winds found petals where

She'd woven flames into her hair.

And once a marsh-path hurrying in Saw dancing prints where she had been

She played the organ, sang the psalms,
 Heed quills to self-for-mission aims.

And wore black half-mits on her palms
 Till clouds one night that patched the moon

Saw her choke—on a gray fog-tune.

She hid her secret deep, deep deep,
 Beneath the walks on Poykville street.

But while folks passed her soot-black coffin

A scarlet bird trilled clear and often.

A scarlet bird outside the church
 Sang from an altar of white birch.

HOOF-BEATS

(From Poetry)

My Dreams like little ponies,
 I begged to run ahead,
 And canter to the future.
 They sought the Past instead.

I held them to the Present,
 But they would not be still;
 They hurried little hoof-beats
 Went clicking down the hill.

And soon I heard a whinny
 That sounded far away,
 And knew they had gone round the world

To look for Yesterday.

My ponies all came stumbling home,
 Too tired for questing more,
 I put them far back in my heart
 And locked the stable door.

THE FLY IN CHURCH

(From the Spectator)

My aunts on each side of me are kneeling in a line;

I wonder if their hassoos are as full of pins as mine?

I think they must have asked the hens
 to teach them how to perch;

I'd like to rub my knees, but that's called fidgeting in church.

I found a fly in church today—a fly
 who'd hurt his wing;

It happened just as every one was standing up to sing

"There's a Friend for little children up above the bright blue sky"—

I might have been so good if they had let me keep that fly.

I thought of such a lovely game—I didn't fidget then—

The fly must walk across my book
 before I counted ten;

But just as he was nearly there, the Man said "Let us pray"

And aunts shook their heads at me,
 and brushed my fly away.

The pew is very dark and high, and I am very small,

And aunts say it's wrong in church
 to look about at all.

I think the window's open where the glass is painted red.

For I can feel a scrap of sky that's shining on my head.

Oh, friend for little children, you were once as small as me.

You know how very, very dull a child in church can be.

And if you're hiding just above that tiny patch of sky,

Be sorry for a little boy—and send another fly!

A SUSSEX DAISY

Where the thistle lifts a purple crown
 Six foot out of the turf,
 And the harebell shakes on the windy hill—

O the breath of the distant surf!—
 The hills look over on the South,
 And southward dreams the sea;

And, with the sea-breeze hand in hand,
 Came innocence and she.

Where 'mid the gorse the raspberry
 Red for the gatherer springs,
 Two children did we stray and talk
 Wise, idle, childish things.....

Oh, there were flowers in Storrington
 On the turf and on the spray;
 But the sweetest flower on Sussex hills

Was the Daisy-flower that day!
 —Fancis Thompson, in "Poems."

The two convivial fishermen pushed off from the wharf and rowed energetically toward the far shore of the lake.

"Are the whisky and cigars in?"
 asked the fat one.

"Yep," replied the not so fat one.

"The lunch here?"

"You betcha."

"The hooks and lines?"

Search revealed that the tackle had been left behind. "Well," said the fat one, after due reflection, "Guess we'll just have to get along the best we can."—Ex.

STUDENTS MAY VOTE

Ottawa, March 18.—After consultation with the Government, L. P. Hancroft, M.P. for Selkirk, announced this morning that his proposed amendment to the Election Act, giving the vote to school teachers and university students who cannot fulfill the residence clause in the present act, may be taken over as a Government measure.

He said that Chief Electoral Officer O. M. Bigger and the law officers of the Crown had examined his proposals and recommended them. However, if brought down as a private bill the chances of the measure going through this session were remote. Therefore, he had agreed to turn his bill over to the government, he could get it through this year. About 170,000 persons are concerned.

LOYOLA DEBATERS WIN

Loyola College debaters scored a win over Boston College yesterday when they upheld the affirmative of the resolution "That the growing tendency of governments to restrict the rights of individuals is to be deplored." The Loyola team was composed of Louis
H. Phelan and Edward H. LaPierre while their American opponents were Joseph M. Dolan and Francis R. Shea.

"I tell you, sir, I have played in all the largest theatres in Europe."
"Yes, sir. Why in America we have theatres so big that when a man in the back seat throws an egg, it hits the one out before it reaches the stage."

Two's a company, the third a chaplain.—E.

EATON'S DAILY STORE NEWS

In the Spring when
All Men's Fancies
Turn to Thoughts of New Attire!

And here at EATON'S is the masculine mode in all the brisk and dapper smartness of the youthful season of the year—Spring, which begins on Monday next, the twenty-first.
Never were assortments so varied, so complete, so interesting, providing something for the taste of every man—grave or gay. You are cordially invited to view our displays in the various departments.

The Eatonia Suit at $25.00

An out-of-the-ordinary value.

PLAIN navy blue serge. Pin stripe blue and black worsted. Plain steel grey serge. Fancy tweeds in greys, brown. Tailored to a perfection of finish in single and double-breasted models for men and young men—special types for men of tall, short and stout proportions. Never was the slogan
"EATONIA" stands for good value in good merchandise more worthily upheld.

London-Tailored Coats

$35, $40, $45, $50, $55

Burberry and Richard Austin model. There's no getting away from the fact that the English coat is in a class by itself when it comes to style. Two things enter into this—the full-skirted bottom of the coat and the rugged tweeds which, indeed, are sometimes bold to the degree of daring. There are quieter tones, of course. Slip-on, raglan shoulders with a "devil-may-care" swagger.

Burberry
Gabardines
$40.00

The point about these new rain-proofs for Spring
is their new tones of blue, green and fawn. We believe you'll like them.

The Birkdale Specified
Suits at $35.00

Exceptionally High Standard

EVERY stage in the tailoring and finish of these "Birkdale" suits is according to a rigid specification carried out under our personal supervision. No detail is overlooked; quality of fabric, smartness of cut, the many tailoring touches which are vital to the good and lasting fit of a suit —indeed, no less than 37 rules must be followed in the making of these suits. Hence the term, "Specified," and the result is high standard at moderate cost.

Birkdale Specified Suits are made in single and double-models—smart grey tones with color mingleings, lighter browns in Tweeds and Worsteds —also navy blue Botany Serge. Types for all figures at $35.00.

Domestic Coats
$25, $30
and $35

Made by foremost Canadian tailors—not so
"loud" and somewhat closer-fitting. An excellent range.

SHIRTS

STRIPES are favored for Spring and there are innumerable versions of them—
narrow, wide,
clustered,
contrasting and harmonizing. A notable shirt value is the "Birkdale" at $3.50—made from that excellent shirt fabric woven madras.
A soft and stiff collar to match.
Other great shirt values "Renown" $2.00—"Eatonia" $2.50—
"Canterbury" $4.50.

CRAVATS

THE all-over pattern is the vogue on Fifth Avenue and in London. Diamond effects and small figures allow the use of very clever old treatments which smartly match the shirt, collar and sail. Birkdale ties at $1.50 are made with a satin slide-band, and they show a big range of nifty designs and colors. Lots of other ties up to $5.00.
Eaton's Main Floor, St. Catherine St.

SOCKS

ALLEN, SOLLY & CO., London, are one of the world's smartest "sockers". The new Spring designs and shade mixtures call for the use of the word "snappy"—so particularly attractive are the checks and stripes. Greys, fawns and marls are usually the backgrounds. $2.50.
Eaton's Main Floor, Victoria St.

SHOES

"BIRKDALE" Shoes at $7.00 have quality written all over them with an elegance of style to match. There are Oxfords in black or brown selected calf or kid in Blucher or straight lace styles. A fit for every foot.
All Goodyear welled, of course.
Sizes 5½ to 11. Widths B, C, D, E. See also "Eatonia" Shoes at $5.00 and "Canterbury" Shoes at $9.00—both remarkable values.
Eaton's Main Floor, Victoria St.

HATS

A shape and shade for every type of face
and head.
You can't go wrong here with so many to choose from. "Renown" $3.50
—
"Eatonia"
$5.00
"Birkdale"
$7.00—"Canterbury" $9.00—each the best possible quality at the price—these are our own brands.
New Borsalinos for Spring $8.00
—Stetson's $10.00.

GLOVES

MEN are conservative about their gloves. While hogs ($3.75), are still in favor, deerskin gloves ($3.00), in natural color with pique seams, Paris points and one dome fastener will be much worn. A fine line of grey suede gloves is moderately marked at $2.50.
Eaton's Main Floor, Victoria St.
